

Lunch Is A Whole New Thang!

We Got This.

Let us bring our magic to you in the form of lunch.

What? No community fridge for stashing your lunch? Tired of that sad sack lunch or same ole food truck? Wanna say “thank you!” to your peeps? As you might expect, we have taken the whole thinking outside the [lunch] box thing to the next level.

Our super-power is making magic happen in the kitchen and around the table. So when these ‘not so tasty’ times hit, we pulled out our biggest wand (that, by the way, looks a lot like a whisk) and got the voodoo working. We not only ‘pivoted’ in our business... we freakin’ pirouetted our way to re-envisioning our cooking parties, teambuilding, culinary education and catered lunch models to accommodate what we knew to be our customers’ overwhelming need to re-connect and build relationships with your employees, family and/or friends. It’s our stock in trade... we create experiences that make that kind of wizardry happen.

So, if you would... take a moment with us, don your best Harry Potter hat, and imagine your team (or family or besties) re-connecting in a whole new way as we introduce our new line-up of, dare we say, amazing experiences that will address your need for good juju, community, connection and killer food... all in a safe and comfortable manner. (You’re welcome.)
